• Town Manager Richard Bowen met today with representatives of Andover High, Abbot and Phillips Academy student government groups to discuss organization of an Andover Youth Council. The Board of Selectman authorized such a group at a recent meeting. It is to serve as a link between young people and the community.

• Andover Little League, beginning its sixteenth season, is soliciting merchants' advertising support for the printing of its annual booklet. The league has grown from one team of fifteen boys to four senior league teams, ten major league teams and 21 minor league teams, making organized competitive baseball available to approximately 600 boys.

• Donald N. Bastarache, supervisor of the state tax office in Salem, announces that contrary to rumors about the filing date for the corporate tax return, the returns must be filed by March 15, 1966.

• Andover lost its chance for a Merrimack Valley Conference title Friday when the Warriors basketball team lost to Chelmsford 39-24, slipping to third place in the conference race.

• Gov. John A. Volpe told the Interstate Commerce Commission this week that to permit the New Haven Railroad to merge its freight service into the proposed Penn-Central combine without permitting the Boston & Maine to join the Norfolk & Western System would be to create a competitive situation that could drive the B&M into bankruptcy.

Free Cash Total High

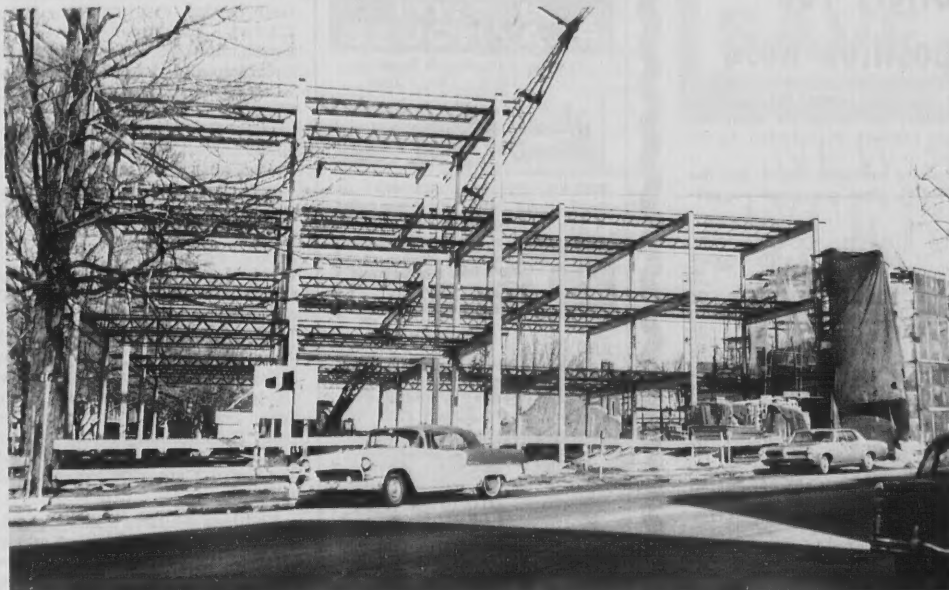

As of Jan. 1 the Town of Andover had a total of $1,032,239.32 in its free cash coffers, the largest such year-end sum in its history. The term "free cash" refers to surplus revenue less uncollected taxes for the preceeding year, in this instance, 1965. The "surplus" total is approximately $1.2 million.

Up One More Floor?

DANTON REALTY TRUST will seek to add a fourth floor to its Standard International Building at a March 3 hearing. Structural steel is in place for a three story building, all that downtown zoning regulations now permit. (Cole)

Dantos Seeks Zoning Variance

Officials of Danton Realty Trust will appear at a Zoning Board of Appeals hearing on March 3 to request a variance that would permit addition of a fourth floor to the Standard International Building, now under construction at Elm Square.

Town zoning regulations on buildings located in the general business district stipulate that no structure shall stand more than three floors or measure more than 40 feet in height.

Danton partner John Davidson has, however, talked of the possibility of a four story office building since the project was first announced in January, 1965. Architect's sketches at the construction site show a four-floor building.

It will be brought out at the hearing that the addition of a fourth floor to the Standard building would bring the structure to a height just 5' 5" in excess of the stipulated 40 foot maximum. Without this fourth floor, the office building will stand less than the permitted maximum.

The appeals board will hear five other petitions at the March 3 hearing. The requests will be from: Doyle Lumber Co., 63 Chandler Rd., for a variance to permit interior alterations to a non-conforming building.

Allied Chemical Co., 40 Rector St., for a variance to allow erection of signs on Dascomb Road and Route 93. The Town of Andover, for a variance to permit construction of the West Andover fire station on the corner of Ledge Road and Chandler Road without the required setback.

Daniel Frishman, 14 Castle Heights Rd., for a variance to allow added construction to be used as an apartment for parents.

Andover Realty Associates, 120 Braintree St., Allston, for a special permit to allow seven apartment buildings on Crescent Drive and Haverhill Street.

School Bids Run Higher Than Budget

Architects and members of the school building committee will sit down tonight to listen to an evaluation of construction bids that at first glance seem to be $500,000 over budget.

Bids for the new 1,200 student high school were received Tuesday and the $3,839,735 quote from E. H. Porter Co., Peabody, appeared to be the bottom offer. In advance planning, the building committee allocated about $3.4 million of the $3.9 million appropriated for the school as the budget for the general construction contract.

Manager Bowen said after the bid taking, however, that "nobody is going to panic." There are legalities and technicalities to be checked, before Perry, Shaw, Hepburn & Dean, architects, can give a clear picture of just how far apart bid and budget figures actually are, he said.

For one thing, Porter did not specify that he planned to use the low bid masonry contractor James J. Welsh Co. whose bid of $325,000 submitted last week.

Unless Welsh filed an exception with his bid, indicating that he would not work with other than a specified general contractor, it is the manager's understanding that Porter would have to accept Welsh as the masonry contractor. This would shave something in excess of $100,000 from Porter's general contract bid.

Some money will be picked up from the site work allocation which was set at $385,930. The manager said final figures for this work, including all phases of it, will run about $10,000 to $15,000 less than anticipated.

In addition, there are bid alternates to be considered. Roughly $65,000 could be cut from the overall bid if all five alternates

Next Issue's Bill Of Fare

The TOWNSMAN had to meet its press deadline Wednesday before candidates took the lid off the 1966 political cauldron at the first League of Women Voters Candidates' Night meeting.

But detailed coverage of opinions offered and questions raised there will be presented in the Feb. 24 issue.

In addition, the TOWNSMAN will have a short feature on one of the newer techniques for teaching reading and its use in Andover.

ANDOVER CO-OP

The CO-OP Offers You Sporting Proposition No. 4

Here are more comparisons to help settle the question about the value of CO-OP brands. By value we mean the quantity and/or quality of the product in relation to its price.

Just buy an item of your favorite national brand and the same item as put up for the CO-OP. Here are some suggestions, with comparable costs.

HOUSEHOLD CLEANERS	NAT'L BRAND	CO-OP BRAND	YOU SAVE

CO-OP SAVES YOU 35% ABOVE
CO-OP ALSO SAVES YOU CASH REFUND

*Adjusted to equalize

Now make a fair test of both brands. We predict that you will find the CO-OP brand equally good. They are meticulously selected in the consumers' interests.

Since the CO-OP brands save you a lot of money, they obviously are the better buy. That is what makes them such favorites among savvy shoppers.

What makes this a sporting proposition? The fact that you can't lose. If you are unhappy with the CO-OP brand we will refund your money.

Schoolboy Study Plan

The Phillips Academy Board of trustees approved plans for a new schoolboys Abroad Program in France, beginning in 1967. At the same meeting, the Barcelona program was extended for another three years.

For two years, Andover and Phillips Exeter Academy have run the Schoolboys Abroad program in Spain for secondary school boys interested in advancing their knowledge of the Spanish language and culture. Boys now in the 10th grade are eligible to apply for the thirty-three openings in the 1966-67 school year.

While in Barcelona the boys take a regular course of study which enables them to finish their senior years at their various schools in the States.

Edward Harris, executive officer for the program and instructor in Spanish at Phillips Academy, said that the site for the French program will be determined in March when he and Andre Vernet of the Exeter faculty go to France to investigate possible facilities in Brittany.

Methuen Man Heads Chorus

Salvatore J. Vinciguerra of Methuen is the newly elected president of the Andover Community Chorus.

Other officers for 1966 are: Mrs. William S. Watson of Andover, vice president; Miss Mina Valentine, Andover, secretary; Miss Ruth Krey, Wilmington, treasurer; Mrs. Maurice L. LaPointe, assistant director; Mrs. Helen Dooley, social chairman; and Mrs. Frederic A. Pease, publicity chairman.

In its first appearance of the new year, the chorus presented a concert at Danvers State Hospital Sunday, sponsored by the Outreach Commission of the Pilgrim Fellowship of South Church.

The chorus, directed by Richard F. Reed of Melrose, sang a program of songs from musical comedy, folk songs and old favorites and led patients and young people from South Church in a community sing.

REV. FREDERICK B. NOSS

Rev. And Mrs. Noss Guests For Concert

Rev. Frederick B. Noss, dean of the Andover clergy and pastor of the South Church, and Mrs. Noss will be honored at a reception and concert Sunday at Christ Church at 8 p.m. Mr. Noss will retire on Oct. 1, the date of his 35th anniversary with the Andover congregation.

Paying tribute to his associate's long pastorate, Rev. J. Edison Pike, Episcopal rector said this week "Fred Noss has been a good neighbor and friend of the people and ministers of Christ Church, and the influence and benefits the Nosses have contributed to the community have been great indeed."

The concert dedicated to the retiring minister and his wife will be sung by the adult choir of Christ Church. Representative sacred works of Mozart, including the "Missa Brevis in B Flat", a setting of Psalm 117 and the "Fantasy in F Minor for Organ," played by Carol Foster, will be presented. A string ensemble will assist the choir whose soloists will be Mary Louise Graves and Elinor Wright, sopranos, Gisela Traulsen, alto, Crayton Bedford, tenor and Robert Goodwin, bass.

A reception for Rev. and Mrs. Noss will follow the concert to which the public is invited.

Scout Troop 76 Holds Awards Night Banquet

More than 100 persons attended Saturday the charter supper and awards night of Boy Scout Troop #76 sponsored by Ballard Vale United Church. Committeeman Frank Froberg organized the dinner which was served by the members of the troop.

Representing the Ballard Vale Community Assn., Richard St. Amand presented the troop with a flag in recognition of the Scouts' faithful service to the community in the raising and lowering of the American flag on the pole in the center of the town. The boys, working in shifts, have performed this task daily since the flagpole was dedicated on Veterans Day.

Donald Hayes, neighborhood chairman, gave a new troop charter to the institutional representative, John McIntyre.

Executive director of the North Essex Council, Bob Smith, presented a banner indicating 100 percent enrollment in the "Boy's Life" subscription plan to James Butler, Scoutmaster. He also gave the boys another banner representing an increase in the troop membership during the past year. The Scout executive also presented 1966 cards to these committee members: John McIntyre, institutional representative; Ernest Hall, troop committee chairman; Frank Froberg, Al Smeltzer, Robert Bosdorf and William Murphy, committeemen.

Assistant scoutmaster Clinton Shaw gave 12 scouts rank advancement badges. The boys honored were: Tenderfoot, Clinton Shaw and Tim Clough; Second class, Jonathan Farr, Richard Quinn, Donald Cochran, Eric Mears, Gary Hall, Thomas Froberg, Gary Mattheson, Jeff Tacconi and Gary O'Donnell; First Class, Walter Cochran.

Mr. Butler presented the following merit badges: bird study, Walter Cochran and Jonathan Farr; personal fitness, Donald Cochran and Eric Mears; swimming, Donald Cochran and Gary Hall. Partial credit for marksmanship was given to Jeff Tacconi and to Walt Cochran for nature and soil and water conservation badges.

In A Word..

Furuncle

If a customer complains of a boil, a superstitious clerk might consider her a thief!

Just as some people today believe that a pimple on the tongue results from telling a lie, the Romans thought that a boil resulted from stealing.

The Roman word for boil was furunculus, a diminutive of the word fur, which means "thief." Thus the term literally signifies a little thief.

But some think that the word may be derived from the Latin word furo, to rage, plus the suffix unculus, meaning little.

Teacher Honored

Mrs. Kenneth Minard of Andover, was named "teacher of the year" at the annual tea of the Weekday School of Biblical Studies held recently at Graham House, Phillips Academy. She was honored for her dedication and the high quality of teaching in the school, where she has taught for eight years. Ann Danforth, a ninth grade student, presented a corsage to Mrs. Minard.

Another corsage was given to Mrs. Harry Butler of Andover in recognition of her 14 years' service as secretary to the school. Douglas Koza, another ninth grader made the presentation.

The director of the Biblical Studies school, Walter Aufrecht, welcomed parents of students enrolled in the religious school, which this year has about 80 pupils. He presented the staff members Mrs. J. Edison Pike, Rev. Richard Streeter and Rev. Robert Bosdorf who explained the school's program and subject material.

Mrs. Walter Partridge, assistant principal of the Junior High School explained the relationship of the Weekday School of Biblical Studies to the public schools.

Pourers at the tea were a seventh grade teacher, Mrs. John Murray, and a former teacher of the school, Mrs. Arthur Weaver.

Chamber Music Concert Sunday

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a performance of the Chamber Orchestra on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Addison Art Gallery.

DeWitt Thornton, director of the Phillips Academy Orchestra, will conduct this group in a performance of works by Clementi, Stamitz, Bond, Telemann, and Cimarosa.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission.

SCHOOL BIDS

were to be dropped. The largest single item in this separate bid category is an athletic field house for which Porter's company listed a bid of $49,951.

Allowances
In looking for ways to bring the construction costs in line with Town Meeting's allocation, the building committee will also re-examine some $400,000 in construction allowances. Estimates for items on this list (including some movable partitions, for example) were made by architects and the building committee and included in general contract bids through the town itself will purchase all those specified.

The committee could "find" money here, or it could discover an even larger deficit. Manager Bowen has expressed the fear that these estimates were made so long ago that they will prove to be out of line with current prices for the items listed.

Emphasizing that anything said about the construction money picture in advance of a "real skull session" would be pure conjecture, Manager Bowen expressed his determination to build the school within budget.

The key problem area, in the manager's opinion, is that of allowances for what might be considered expendable or semi-expendable school equipment.

"The final judgment where substantive matters relating to educational matters are concerned will have to be made by the School Committee," Bowen pointed out. Decisions on the use of one building material over another etc., belong to the building committee, he said.

The manager said he felt he has an obligation to see that the school is built for the $3.9 million voted by Town Meeting and he noted that voters appeared to be reluctant to approve even this sum.

If there are educational equipment items that the School Committee is unwilling to see abandoned in the budgeting process, Bowen said he felt that the school policy board would have to make the overture to Town Meeting for added funds.

Bowen has said previously that he would not favor taking another school building to Town Meeting for an appropriation until plans were drawn and bids taken.

He reaffirmed this position in interview Tuesday and said he felt Town Meeting should not be asked to vote an appropriation on anything less than a figure from a professional estimator based on construction plans.

Other low bids on the high school building were received from C. A. Batson Co., Brockton ($3,840,516) and Frasca Construction Co., Lynn, ($3,888,943).

BRENNAN RUNS

With his announcement, he issued the following statement: "If Andover is to move forward, vital decisions must be made now and action taken to insure an orderly approach to future programs. This can only be accomplished by a proper balance and make-up among members of the Board of Selectmen."

"We have found that past boards were top heavy with professional people usually employed out of town and seldom available for special conferences or impromptu board meetings. As I am employed in Andover and in daily contact with many townspeople, I feel my understanding and knowledge of our community would help to effect a stronger policy board. As a government employee, I am prevented from seeking any state or federal elective office. I am interested only in serving Andover and all its people."

The Pynchard High School graduate has been a resident of Andover for 40 years. He attended Western Carolina Teachers College and Merrimack College of Industrial Relations.

A Navy veteran of World War II, he earned five battle stars for service in the South Pacific.

He makes his home at 12 Brook St. with his wife, the former Shirley Smith of Andover, and their four children.

Planning Board Zoning Proposals Charted

WARRANT ARTICLE PROPOSALS of the Planning Board which would enlarge the central business district and create a general residence - office buffer zone are illustrated on this official Planning Board map of the area.

Map legends which refer to the areas that are to be squared off in enlarging the general business district are self explanatory.

The map legend which refers to lots which are 50 percent or more within a 200 ft. extension of the general business zone indicates those lots which would fall within the professional office district. On such lots, doctors or dentists could have professional offices without living on the premises. Present zoning regulations require such professional men to live in the building which houses their offices, if it is in a residential zone. The Planning Board has said that MOST properties that would fall within this new district are already being used as multiple dwellings.

Cookie Sale Is Underway

Andover Girl Scouts will begin their annual cookie sale on Feb. 18. The sale will last until Feb. 28 with delivery after March 17. Profits from troop cookie sales are used for trips, crafts, service projects, cookouts, flags and many other Girl Scout activities.

Mrs. Francis Bailey, Andover-North Andover neighborhood cookie chairman, announces that this year's profits will be used to add new beds and mattresses, tables and benches, dock sections and archery equipment for the Girl Scout camps. Many improvements at Camp Maude Eaton in Andover, and Camp Runels and Camp Merry-Meeting were made from last year's cookie sale profits.

Mrs. Saverio Campione of North Andover or Mrs. Bailey may be called if a Girl Scout does not call to sell cookies.

BOWLING GROUP MEETING
The February meeting of the Andover Alley Cats was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corbett, Lovejoy Rd.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alfonso, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Black, Mr. and Mrs. John Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Teahan and Mr. and Mrs. Richard White.

Former Andover T Author Of New Bi

Dr. Evelyn I. Banning, formerly teacher and acting principal at Andover Junior High School (1941-1946), is the author of a newly published book on the life of Mary Lyon, the educator who not only helped establish Wheaton College, where the author now teaches, but also founded Mount Holyoke College, the first college for women in America.

Dr. Banning received her doctorate in education at Harvard Graduate School of Education in 1952, and then accepted an offer to set up a teacher-training program at Wheaton College. She is professor of psychology and education and chairs the department of education.

Her book, "Mary Lyon of Putnam's Hill" (Vanguard Press), is dedicated to Dr. Evelyn R. Robinson, who served Andover as children's librarian from 1930-1942 and became Andover Junior High's first full-time librarian in 1943. Dr. Robinson is now associate professor at Southern Connecticut State College in the Library Division and she herself has recently published "Readings about Children's Literature" (MacKay).

Mary Lyon of Putnam's Hill has been described by one reviewer as a moving and inspiring biography that takes its title from the location of Mary Lyon's childhood home in western Massachusetts. Miss Banning depicts the 19th century farm and school life with many informative details and the narrative moves as quickly as light action. All crucial events and most of the incidents actually happened.

Band Members Honor Guests

The Andover Band Parent's Assn. recently honored the senior members of the Girl's and Boy's Marching Bands at a banquet at Holiday Inn. Senior girls were presented with a lyre charm inscribed with their initials and a number representing their years with the band. The boys were given a tie pin also inscribed. William A. Doherty, dean of the School Committee, gave a brief history of the formation of the Girl's Band by Mrs. Miriam McArdle, director of public school music.

Leonard Arnold president of a music company was the program speaker. In honor of the Girl's Band's 25th anniversary, he talked on the subject "Musical Opportunities After Graduation". He presented the music department with a clarinet to be used by a worthy student unable to purchase an instrument.

Invited guests included the superintendent of schools, principals of the high school and junior high school and members of the School Committee, their husbands and wives.

DAIRY HERD CLASSIFIED

The holstein herd of Andover dairyman Sidney P. White, Wild Rose Dairy, have been classified for body type by Ronald C. Measured Steps

The Planning Board is asking Town Meeting for authorization to enlarge the central business district, impose parking space restrictions in the commercial area and create, in effect, a buffer zone between single residence homes and a bustling downtown.

These articles are in the warrant as zoning amendments but it might be more literal to label them as conservation measures. For they are, as surely as if they called for preservation of the breeding grounds of the whooping crane.

What they seek to conserve is the character of a town. They represent Andover's struggle to meet the demands of growth without the loss of its identity as an essentially rural, residential community. They are stitches in the nick of time.

Anyone who is dismayed at the sight of the city creeping into the country is certain to wish that Andover could somehow be improved without being enlarged. But those who have not assumed the posture of the ostrich recognize this as an impossibility. Andover's population has already surged past 20,000. It will surely reach 30,000, and prognosticators are equally positive it will go to 40,000.

The business center must grow, obviously, if it is to accommodate a population of this magnitude.

A step toward necessary growth is what the Planning Board proposes in an amendment that reflects the board's resolve to keep the major concentration of business in or near the traditional center. The planners are dead set, as is the TOWNSMAN, against letting development spread like wildfire along Main Street, wiping out residential approaches. Enlargement of the central business district as envisioned, would preserve the commercial cluster.

Just as vital to the orderly growth of downtown Andover is approval for regulations the board has drafted which would require owners of new or expanding business properties to meet minimum requirements for customer parking.

The planners regard these minimums as so vital, in fact, that their chairman has said publicly his board would rather withdraw the business center zoning change than see it enacted without any restraints on parking.

The logic is unmistakable. It would certainly be a waste of time to introduce parking regulations in a year or two if developers had meanwhile been permitted to build at will.

The Planning Board has done its part in pre-thinking the problem and has, at long last, drafted minimum parking space requirements that are acceptable to the business community.

We interpret this acceptance, announced last week, as official recognition by the Andover Chamber of Commerce that what is good for the townspeople can also be good for business. And we commend the Chamber for announcing the reversal of its previous position on parking regulations well in advance of Town Meeting.

We trust the voters will take an equally logical look at the alternatives and agree to both the parking space restrictions and the enlargement of the business district, measured steps into the future.

What Our Readers Say—

Pressure

To the Editor of the Townsman:
The Townsman is impressed because nobody has sent it a letter concerning "... whether or not the town of Andover should enter into a contract with MBTA to continue rail service." However 2 letters concerning the principle were sent Jan. 27 and Feb. 2. They failed to register, so I'll try again.

It is understood, particularly by the advocates of town manager government that "the politics of democracy is the politics of pressure groups" hence town manager government is designed to control the pressure for its benefit. Consequently, town meeting is mostly concerned with bestowing advantage upon those who seek it and come with the votes to obtain it. In this instance $3000 of town income is being asked for the advantage of some business people who ride a railway. In nearly every particular the principle is the same as that in asking town meeting to approve $265,000 of town income to be given, for the advantage of perspective business concerns, in the form of water supply.

In both cases there is no guaranty that the original sum shall be the last sum requested. Both are likely to be but the forerunner of more requests particularly if Town Meeting gives up easily under the spell of the advocates, official or otherwise.

In each case those seeking the gift from Town Meeting can count on reciprocity in voting both being elements of the business pressure group for which town manager government is designed to serve first.

A Word Of Advice

To the Editor of the Townsman:
Thank you for the invitation to discuss town affairs, especially the coming Town Meeting in the Townsman....

This year as never before we are in a mess, first our State Legislature Tax Bill comedy. Secondly, the Fed. gov't's war in Vietnam, and the new south program and the foreign aid bills all add to the crises, we may talk a lot about dollars but forget not the boys, who are on the line sacrificing every day and hour for our comfort here in Andover....

So considering these crises, let us in Andover act with sobriety and determination to make Andover a place to live.

My concern, and hope is that the face of the town will not be changed....

What we want in Andover is to

Attention Letter Writers

The TOWNSMAN welcomes and seeks letters from readers on the local (or national and international) issues of the day particularly during this period of pre-Town Meeting campaigning.

But sometimes our readers get carried away and submit letters that run so much in excess of our 300 word limit that we cannot even edit them satisfactorily.

Please, do not hesitate to write. But count those words.

create a better business atmosphere. I dare say very few of our business men are willing to expand because of the uncertainty of prevailing times. It is very competitive, one has to read the ads and see the alluring bargains offered. Andover hasn't the ghost of a chance competing with the surrounding super stores and the shopping plazas. That is the one good reason, why we should not consider a new town hall, put a town hall anywhere in Andover, North, South, East or West and business will go down the drain.

Another concern is for a water supply that will be ample for all our needs as a growing community. The IRS building and the new restaurants and all the new homes, will need a tremendous flow of water, lets be sure we can provide it.

So we come to the plague of Andover and that is the traffic snarls here and there. We need parking for sure and there is one spot, that would provide parking for many cars and at the same time amend a very bad mess of traffic at the corner of High & Elm Sts., my recommendation would be to remove that bit of Police Masonary and to resurface that bit of grass between Main & High Streets. It would clear the long lines of traffic that extend on Elm & High Sts., at the rush hours and besides it won't cost a million dollars but will do a very great service to ease the traffic.

So the last concern, is now we have made a move for a new Fire Station. Let's keep the police department happy. Give them a new home also, wherever they go the law will be upheld and the center of the town will be the better off because of the traffic that is always part of a police department.

R. V. Deymond
91 Elm St.

The Question

To the Editor of the Townsman:
You asked for this. Here it is.

I have been commuting to Boston by train for almost a quarter century. I regret past curtailment of service; I would deplore its abandonment.

But I cannot, in conscience, join the escalating armies of fellow Americans who demand that the government subsidize their existence, even though I am compelled by that same government to contribute to the ever-expanding subsidies of others.

I am glad a railroad question is coming up.

But what is the question? Not, I hope, "Do I want the town to subsidize my cost of transportation?" which is odious to me but, hopefully, "Is it in this town's interests to retain rail passenger service?" which is a proper question.

On the first question I would vote "No." On the second I don't know how I would vote because no one, to my knowledge, has yet communicated the resulting civic gains and losses. I only know that once the service is gone, it is gone beyond recall.

The QUESTION is the thing with which to test the thinking of the town.

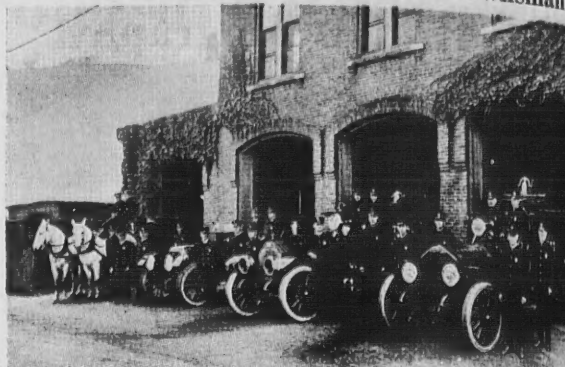

Dino G. Valz
17 Stratford Rd.

Costs Are Up

To the Editor of the Townsman:
About 2 years ago Town Meeting authorized a committee to build a high school. Subsequently, the sum approved for the project was $3.9 million. Since that time building costs in the Boston-Lawrence-Worcester area have risen about

INFORMS YOU!

This column is edited by F. J. O'Connor, Chief of Audit of the Boston District, Internal Revenue Service. Questions of general interest mailed to Mr. F. J. O'Connor, Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 323, Boston, Mass., 02117, will be answered through this column.

Q. My son is a college student and a member of the ROTC. Is the money he receives taxable to him?

A. No. Amounts received by members of the ROTC are not includible in the gross income of the recipients.

Q. I won a color television set at a drawing at a local market. Is this taxable to me?

A. Yes. The fair market value of the television set must be included in your income.

Q. I am in the Air Force Reserves. Can I deduct the cost of my uniforms?

A. Yes. You may deduct (if you itemize your deductions), to the extent not reimbursed, the cost of your uniform if it may legally be worn only while performing duties as a reservist. If, however, you are on full-time active duty in the armed forces the cost of your uniform is not deductible.

Q. I pay my ex-wife $150.00 a month alimony in accordance with a divorce decree. Am I entitled to a deduction for this?

A. You may deduct the money you pay as alimony if you itemize your deductions. Your ex-wife is required to include this money in her income.

Q. Upon graduation from school last June I paid a $350.00 fee to an employment agency for getting me a job. Can I deduct this?

A. Yes. If you itemize your deductions the fee you paid may be deducted.

Q. I received $3,000.00 proceeds from an endowment insurance policy. Do I have to pay tax on this amount?

A. Endowment policy proceeds paid in a lump sum to the insured at maturity are taxable only to the extent they exceed the cost of the policy.

Q. Does a disability entitle a taxpayer to an additional personal exemption?

A. No. Disability is no factor. However, anyone who is blind is allowed an additional $600.00 deduction, regardless of age.

Poland Saluted

The community-wide celebration of the millennium of Poland is being observed this week and next at the library's main reading room on the top floor. A thousand years of civilization in Poland form the basis of a colorful display of pictures of ancient Polish cities, famous landmarks and art. Displayed with the pictures are books associated with famous Poles - biographies of Joseph Conrad, Chopin, Copernicus, Madame Marie (Slowowska) Curie, Pilsudski. Also on display are novels by Polish authors such as Sienkiewicz, Conrad and Reymont. This is a circulating display and so if you have not yet read QUO VADIS by Sienkiewicz or THE PEASANTS by Reymont or all of Joseph Conrad, you may help yourself from the collection on top of the catalog.

Library Hours

Because of the school vacation from Feb. 21 to 25 inclusive, the Children's room at the main library will be open in the mornings and through the lunch hour in addition to its regular all-day Saturday hours.

However, the library in all departments will be closed on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Language Lab

The adult department was host last week to 28 Andover Junior High School students who spent an hour consulting the catalog, the Reader's Guide to Periodicals Literature and pamphlets. They wanted to know about genetics and heredity; modern American transportation, especially exotic automobiles; ancient civilizations in Egypt; effects of population explosion in the U. S. and China; poverty.

Team leaders were Debbie Carver, Chester Bisbee, Brian Cook, Sue April and James Caffrey. Miriam Putnam welcomed the group.

Desert Theme

Stories of the desert will be heard on Saturday at ten o'clock when Mrs. Margaret Berry, children's librarian, related "Oasis of the stars" and "The man Kangaroo" in the Children's room.

Littlest Listeners

Due to the Holiday closing next week Miss Elizabeth Russell, supervisor of work with children, announces the following schedule for pre-school programs. The next meeting of the Raccoons will be March 1 at 10 a.m. The next program for Bunnies will be March 8th. Both groups will meet as usual at 10 a.m. in the Children's room.

Great Books

When the Great Books discussion group met Tuesday, Francis Bacon's NOVUM ORGANUM was the springboard for some good talk. The group will have Local OF CIVIL GOVERNMENT for its topic next time. The meeting will be held in the Children's room at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, March 1st.

Police Wisdom

One day last week a Mrs. Short walked into police headquarters to report her car had been involved in a minor accident.

Before she had completed her statement to the officer in charge, a Mrs. Sweet came in to report a similar mishap.

For Desk Sgt. James Lynch it was a golden opportunity. "Now that is the way all accidents should be," he quipped, "Short and sweet!"

Some of that rise may be offset because items may have dropped in price, or innovation has developed to the point of removing or reducing the need for other items.

However, for Town Meeting to accomplish its original objective, it is evident that a sum of about $165,000 additional should be considered. Therefore, the approaching Annual Town Meeting should place before itself, as best it can at this late date, such a matter for analysis, discussion and disposition.

Deficit Solution

To the Editor of the Townsman: I would like to congratulate the selectmen for voting in favor of putting an article in the Town Meeting Warrant concerning the continuance of rail transportation between Andover and Boston.

As I understand it, the article, if passed, would permit the selectmen to negotiate with the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority so that we might continue to have at least one train in and out a day after the Boston and Maine discontinues their service on June 7.

I also understand that by voting for the article, the town would make up any deficit incurred, to the tune of $3,000 per year.

I am very much in favor of at least keeping the train service we have now and furthermore do wish to ask my neighbors to subsidize me. I would urge the selectmen in their negotiations with the MBTA to suggest that the train fare be increased approximately 10 cents per ride, which would make equal to the bus fare and which would more than make up the $3,000 deficit which the MBTA claims it is costing to service Andover.

I do hope the people of Andover will vote for this article and give support to the 100 or so commuters who rely on this train every working day. If my proposal is followed, there will be no cost to the town, and yet the limited train service will be there for everyone to use if the occasion should arise.

With the selection of "The Symmetry of Spring" as a theme, the members of Merrimack have crystallized their plans for a benefit luncheon Show-Luncheon to be held in the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, Prudential Center, March 5.

The college colors of blue and white will set the background for the scheme which will be enhanced by pastel pinks and mauve. The guest will also be presented with a trial of perfume, courtesy of Teller. Twenty male members of the student body in formal dress will act as ushers.

The well-known New England radio commentator, Miss Julie Lawrence, will commentate the show, and vocal selections will be presented by Miss Constance Patti of Lawrence.

A full course luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m., prior to the show.

Reservations for the Fashion Show-Luncheon, the proceeds of which will benefit the new Merrimack College Library, are being taken through the Office of the President of Merrimack College.

Co-chairmen for the spring luncheon are Mrs. Samuel J. Secor, Andover, and Mrs. L. Forma, Andover. Co-commentators are Miss Virginia G. Hall, Dean of Women at the college and Mrs. Albert P. Manzi, Andover.

AHS Students Win Medals

Eleven Andover High School students were finalists at the Massachusetts Speech League competition held Saturday at Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School.

Andover took three of the 25 gold medals given the two students who scored highest in each category. David Thompson outscored the other 28 finalists to win the medal for radio broadcasting and Patricia topped the 32 finalists in the humorous prose category. Catherine Palmer tied for second place to win a gold medal for oratorical interpretation.

Kathleen Muller and Andrea Barenboim placed third to win silver medal honors among the 27 finalists competing in group discussions on NATO.

Other competing finalists from Andover were Lorraine Broderick, Linda Gilmore, Linda Greenwood, Nancy Hickey and Judith Kane.

All contestants in the Andover contingent had high ratings. Their appearance was sponsored by Miss Beatrice L. Stevens and Mrs. Robert C. Hannigen of the high school English department.

Wine Festival

The Knights of Columbus Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring a "wine festival" at the K. of C. lodge, Briarcliff, on Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Mrs. Lawrence Farrington is chairman of the committee selling tickets for the event. Serving with her are Mrs. Raymond Bolduc, Mrs. Roger Dufresne, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Patrick McCafferty, Mrs. James O'Hagan and Mrs. Aime Reming.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Lenny Caron and George Driben, Proprietor, Install Windshield

City Glass Company, located at the corner of West and Tremont Streets, Lawrence, has an expert staff of workers to do any kind of glass work efficiently and quickly. Run by George Driben, proprietor, they provide a convenient Drive-In Service for all insurance replacements on plate and auto glass, the specialty of City Glass. A franchised dealer for Plexi Glass, Libbey Owens Ford, Pittsburgh Plate and Saffee Glass, City Glass installs auto glass, tub enclosures, store fronts, mirrors, aluminum doors and windows, table tops and mirrored sliding doors. Mr. Driben suggests you stop in for a look at the Mark IV Auto Air Conditioner to beat heat, humidity, dust and pollen. The Mark IV Monitor out-cools factory installed air conditioners as proved in road tests under the blazing Arizona sun. It starts cooling faster and cools the whole car, not just the front seat. And unlike expensive factory units, the Mark IV transfers to your next car.

Owners report over 300,000 miles of dependable use over four cars. And should you ever need service, Mark IV's 24 month/24,000 mile warranty is good at Mark IV service centers coast to coast. The Mark IV Monitor fits almost any car and there's no delay. Call 683-3675 for an appointment or to inquire about the many glass services offered by City Glass. Better yet visit their showroom, where you will receive a free sample can of Inject-Alum, the new aluminum waterproofing paint.

District Registry of Deeds, Book
115, Page 315, has filed with said
Court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage by entry and possession and exercise of a power of sale:

you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldier's and Sailor's Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and you object to such foreclosure said mortgage, you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said Court at Salem, in said County of Essex, on or before the fourth day of April, 1966, which day is the return day of this subpoena or you may be forever barred from claiming such foreclosure is invalid under said Act.

Witness, G. JOSEPH TAURO,
Judge, Chief Justice of our Superior Court, the ninth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-six.
